Fraser Island is the world's largest sand island, 123 km long by 15 km wide. It was World Heritage Listed in 1992 after a bitter struggle between conservationists, sand mining and logging interests. It is composed almost entirely of vegetation covered sand, with over 40 freshwater lakes and dense rainforest.

Our tours take you into the best areas of this environmentally sensitive region and discover its precious eco-systems, abundant wildlife and natural beauty. Throughout the day you will touch on and appreciate nature's magnificent paradox. Seemingly endless golden beaches encompass towering hardwood forests, barren heathland, pristine rainforests, huge creeping sandblow deserts, crystal clear freshwater lakes, gurgling blood red streams, prehistoric ferns, mosaic coloured sands.

Fraser Island is in danger of being 'loved to death'. As an eco-tourism operator we play an important role in fostering an awareness in the need to preserve its natural beauty and fragile eco-systems. Regular stops are at picturesque beauty spots. Our commitment of "no compromise for quality" produces a memorable and enjoyable wilderness experience to one of nature's most beautiful and priceless treasures.

Centuries of intriguing history; from the most recent environmental conservation battles to sandmining and logging ...to the numerous shipwrecking disasters; the most famous being the 'Stirling Castle', in 1836 and the tale of 'Eliza Fraser' ...to human habitation 20,000 years ago by the Batjala

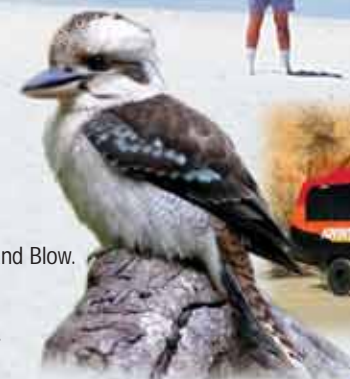

Aborigines and the legends of 'K'gari - the beautiful spirit Princess K'gari or perhaps the shattered Rainbow - Coloured Sands' Dreamtime story.

...to the beginnings beyond the ice ages - originating on the tablelands of Northern New South Wales millions of years ago. Nature and her mysterious ways - let your guide unlock a few of the secrets.

REAL "Aussie Outback" Quality Beef
